

IN YOUR HANDS

FOR CHIEF THERESA KACHINDAMOTO

MUSIC BY KELLY MORAN

LYRICS BY JACQUELINE SUSKIN

Take culture in your hands
How deep it affects this land
Shift it into something new
See world in brighter hue

Togetherness takes new form
As knowledge takes the lead
Let youth live without scorn
Progress will take lead

Take culture in your hands
How deep it affects this land
Shift it into something new
See world in brighter hue

For every book she reads
Exposes better roads
And suddenly her needs
Become a lighter load

Give her this great chance
She'll learn to define dreams
Remove her from this old stance
So she can split these tired seams

Take culture in your hands
How deep it affects this land
Shift it into something new
And see world in brighter hue